Lady Antebellum Perform Jazzy 'You Look Good' at the 2017 ACM Awards

At the 2017 ACM Awards, Lady Antebellum performed their jazzy hit “You Look Good” supported by an impressive horn section made up of the UNLV Marching Band. Toward the end of the song, they effortlessly dipped into the chorus of Bill Withers’ “Use Me Up,” resulting in a refreshing medley.

While the trio moved around on stage, it was as if they were speaking directly to every person in the place, complimenting them one by one.
