

(6.9.17) <http://www.billboard.com/articles/columns/country/7825634/cma-fest-2017-day-1-recap-garth-brooks-luke-bryan>

CMA Fest 2017: Randy Travis and Garth Brooks Make Surprise Appearances, Luke Bryan Shakes It For Fans & More Day 1 Highlights

4:57 p.m. Brandon Lancaster of LANco experienced technical difficulties with his acoustic guitar before playing "Greatest Love Story," almost giving up hope after about five minutes of trying to get the sound to work. But immediately after asking their sound guy "What do you think the chances are of this guitar working?," suddenly it worked, with the crowd erupting into excited cheers. Particularly two men in the crowd were relieved about the fix, as there were two proposals during the song, something that the band didn't realize until after the performance when they greeted both sidestage. With so much love in the air, the band's guitarist Eric Steedly exclaimed, "Let's all just get engaged!"