“I got to hang out with Pharrell for the first time,” said Thomas Rhett, “and I think what Pharrell does for our genre and for the world of music in general is amazing. For him to go to work with Little Big Town and do a whole record with those guys and girls was just astonishing to me, so it was fun to watch them together on stage at the same time,” he said, talking about the quartet/producer combo’s show-closing “One Dance.”
