This year's CMT on Tour will deliver a set that surprises fans and leaves no one in their seat.

Fans can expect a high-octane set from the pair as Eldredge and Rhett both have a lot to celebrate. CMT on Tour is the first headlining tour for Eldredge and Thomas Rhett, and the pair currently dominates two of the coveted Top 10 spots on the country charts. They'll also launch their sophomore albums this fall – with Eldredge's Illinois arriving Sept. 11 and Rhett's Tangled Up on Sept. 25.

"Thomas Rhett and Brett are well on their way to becoming the superstars of our format," CMT senior vice president of music strategy Leslie Fram said Monday (Aug. 31) in announcing the tour dates. "As they both celebrate back-to-back No. 1 singles, we're beyond excited to have them co-headline the CMT tour this year.

“On top of that, it’s an honor to celebrate and support Danielle Bradbery as one of CMT’s Next Women of Country.”

The first on sale date for CMT on Tour is scheduled for Sept. 11. For more information as it becomes available, visit cmtontour.cmt.com and join the conversation on social using #CMTonTour.
