

(3.7.19) - <https://musicrow.com/2019/03/disclaimer-tucker-beathard-the-vegabonds-issue-career-making-music/>

DISCLAIMER: TUCKER BEATHARD, THE VEGABONDS ISSUE CAREER-MAKING MUSIC

It's an alpha-and-omega kinda day here at DisClaimer.

We have everything from bona fide Country Music Hall of Fame members to the newest of baby acts. Ronnie Milsap, Dolly Parton and Reba McEntire are here to remind us of what great country music sounds like. Maddie & Tae, Tenille Townes and Sam Grow are on board with strong bids for future stardom.

The Disc of the Day belongs to Tucker Beathard. It sounds like a career breakthrough to me.

Our DisDiscovery Award winners are The Vegabonds. I see that this is not their first record, so where has this awesome band been all my life? And will somebody please pick these guys up for a major-label shot?

TUCKER BEATHARD/Better Than Me

Writers: Tucker Beathard/Dan Isbell/Jonathan Singleton; Producer: Tucker Beathard; Publishers: none listed; Warner Bros.

– His best yet. Tucker is singing his face off here, especially on that airborne chorus. The track rolls with admirable forward momentum as he sings of a breakup where she's doing better than he is. Played it twice, and can't wait to hear it on the radio. By the way, that's him on lead guitar and drums, as well as vocals.

