Blake Shelton and Florida Georgia Line top the Country LakeShake 2018 lineup

We still have several months of winter to get through before we can seriously start plotting out the summer music festival season, but that hasn't stopped Country LakeShake from announcing its initial lineup. When the event returns to Chicago June 22–24, headlining acts will include The Voice judge (and Sexiest Man Alive, according to People magazine) Blake Shelton, singer-songwriter Dierks Bentley and bro-country duo Florida Georgia Line.

As usual, the country-focused festival will take over the Huntington Back Pavilion at Northerly Island, where you're sure to find attendees in cowboy hats and boots singing along. Country LakeShake tickets go on sale Friday, December 8 at 10am, with single-day tickets starting at $49.50 and three-day passes for $99.50.

Take a look at Country LakeShake's initial lineup below and try to envision the warm summer days that will greet these acts once all of the snow and ice has melted.
