19 Artists to Watch in 2019

#1 Rachel Wammack

RCA Nashville's Rachel Wammack has forged her own path in Country music and the 24-year old Muscle Shoals native has been making waves throughout 2018 with her powerhouse vocals and emotive lyrics. She released her self-titled debut EP in April, which featured her emotive single "Damage."

Already known as one of CMT's "Next Women of Country," Wammack has also been announced as part of CMT's "Listen Up" 2019 class where the program will highlight her new music and videos across all CMT platforms. Her wildfire momentum will continue into 2019 as she continues work on her debut album and hits the road with festival stops including Tortuga and Stagecoach.
